

REMARKS

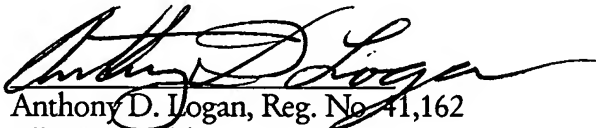

Claim 1 has been amended to include the limitation indicating that the window system disclosed is part of the motor vehicle convertible soft-covering system. Applicant believes that this limitation makes explicit in the claim body the same limitation in the preamble of the claim. Additionally, Applicant believes that this claim amendment has support in the specification. Specifically, page 7, lines 13-15 of Applicant's patent application includes language indicating that the window system is for use on a motor vehicle with a convertible soft-covering system, and that the window system comprises a flexible window, a soft-cover window frame, and an insertable screen. The flexible window of the window system is part of the convertible soft-covering system, and the soft cover window frame is part of the convertible soft-covering system.

CONCLUSION

Applicant has amended the claims and requests that his application now be allowed as amended.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: 22 July 2005
